D. Public Activities

I currently serve as the Director of the Faculty's clinical center. This is a one of the most important and central functions at the Law Faculty, as the clinical center plays a major role in the legal education of our students. As part of my job as head of the clinical program, I am in charge of eight clinics, responsible for the development of the clinical education, organization of workshops, seminars and conferences, and lead the clinical program's agenda

I was also the head of the Gender and Law clinic for 12 years. I have led for exceptional socio-legal macro-level projects that promoted social change, gendered equality, and women's rights. The clinic assists women from minority groups, battered women, rape victims, poor women and more. The clinical work allows me to promote legislation, writing positions papers, organize conferences and round tables and working closely with Israeli MPs and the third sector.
